We've now had sexual harassment laws for several decades and yet recent headlines, as well as our day-to-day experiences, have demonstrated that our laws and workplace policies simply aren't enough.

This FREE 75-minute program will focus on the next level—building the skills in ourselves and in our organizations to identify and respond to all the manifestations of sexual harassment.

Through a combination of a clinical analysis of the nature of sexual harassment and scenario-based discussions of common law firm and court examples, participants will learn how to respond to sexual harassment and lead their organizations to respond appropriately too.

Whether you are an attorney or a judge, whether you are a victim or a bystander, whether you are an employee or a leader, it's time for us to change the conversations we are having about sexual harassment.

Hear from varied perspectives including:

- The Clinician
- The Labor and Employment lawyer
- The Judge
- A Peer
- A Supervisor
- An Organizational leader
